Who is Ministry of Testing?

Ministry of Testing started back in 2007 as a community for software testers and have since grown to become a learning and resource platform, working with community members, industry experts and thought leaders. We provide Learning Pathways, Courses, Training events, Articles, Podcasts, Webinars and our famous TestBash conferences to support our global software testing community.

At the heart of everything we do is our community. We aim to bring positive change to each community member's life, support them throughout their careers, and connect them with a supportive and inclusive testing community, allowing them to grow in knowledge and confidence. We search for new testing voices to highlight while also sharing expert knowledge. Throughout all of this, we allow our community to guide us in what they need. This ethos will never change.

Our Community

Our community is tens of thousands of testers strong and growing every day! The community is made up of software testers from all over the world, at different stages of their careers, with different skill sets and life goals, and all are welcome and valued here. We pride ourselves on really connecting with our community, no matter how big it gets!

Our community members mean everything to us; they guide us on how to better support testers and co-create all the awesome things we make and do.

Why go Pro with Ministry of Testing?

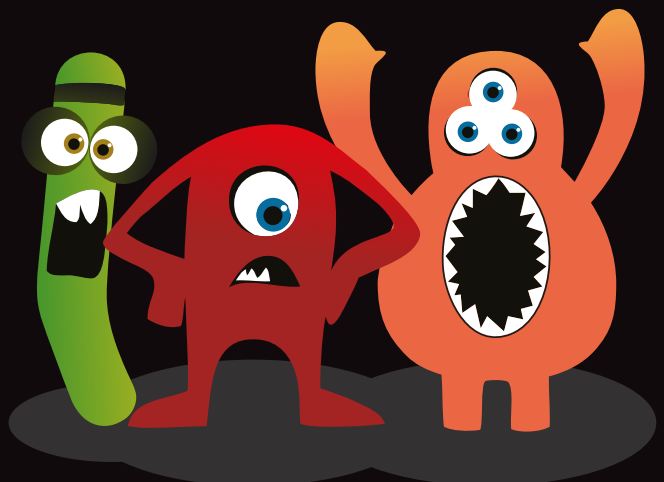

Ministry of Testing's mission goal is co-creating smarter testing which guides how we help Pro teams.

Co-creating

Ministry of Testing is an organisation of world-class experts in testing and education, which puts us in a unique position within our community. Our practical testing experiences and knowledge of the latest pedagogical techniques allow us to work with members of our community to share their skills and knowledge with others. This relationship enables us to identify and create quality learning opportunities on the latest trends and topics in testing and quality.

Smarter testing

The result of this unique relationship is that Pro members have access to all the necessary skills, knowledge and techniques available for modern software development teams. Our events and training enable Pro members to become smarter testers, improving the quality of their work and the products they're responsible for.

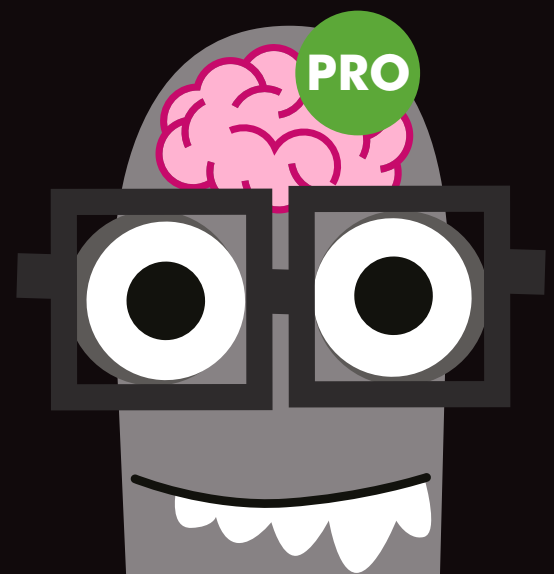

How will Pro help you?

Software development is a constantly changing industry, and to keep up with those changes, we need to invest in our own continuous development. Pro teams will help keep you and your team members up to date and relevant with all the latest and most important topics in testing and quality.

Our numerous event and training formats mean individuals can pick the learning approach that works best for them, picking the topics that matter the most and fitting them into the busy schedules.

For those who are responsible for the development of team members, we offer both support in growing in your role as well as features that take the hassle out of figuring out your team's next training steps. Enabling both team members and leads to grow together to help increase skills and knowledge in testing across team members and improve staff retention.

What do you get with Pro?

By going Pro, you and your team members will have access to a wealth of content and events, such as:

99-Minute Workshops

Our popular 99-Minute workshops offer practical activity led training from experts in the testing community. Each workshop offers a combination of hands-on activities to take part in with other fellow Pro members. With the goal of improving not just skills and knowledge but community connections. We offer two workshops a week, repeating each workshop multiple times to fit into the working week and give attendees applicable skills straight away.

Online TestBash conferences

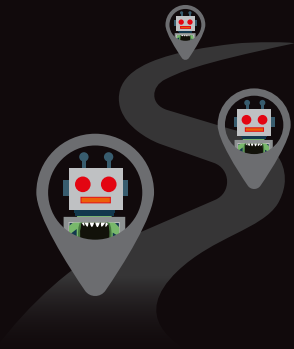

Online TestBash conferences give Pro members the opportunity to take a productive step away from their day to day work to reflect and recharge. Our past conferences have hosted a range of established names in testing and quality as well as promoting new voices. Pro members will not only learn from the diverse range of talks we host, but from the wider global testing community, they will engage with.

Themed Weeks

Themed weeks are deep-dives into specific topics, with multiple ways for your team to engage. The week is filled with 99-Minute Workshops, practical challenges, masterclasses, a Panel discussion, and an Ask Me Anything. So your team will have plenty of options to challenge their thinking and expand their knowledge. There are four of these running throughout the year.

Here's what our Pro Members have to say

"10 years ago, I couldn't have imagined a community like MoT. Thanks to the TestBash conferences, Dojo online content, Club forum, we're breaking new ground in testing and spreading new ideas and practices at an exponential rate. I'm so proud to be part of such an inclusive and supportive community."

Lisa Crispin, Charlotte, US

"Being able to access The Club & The Dojo to share or glean knowledge within the testing community is definitely an asset to my professional career. MoT Membership has helped me to keep up-to-date on the latest schools of thought and tools testers are using globally."

Kim Nepata, Brisbane, AU

"MoT membership has allowed me to meet people and learn things I never would have been able to otherwise. Sharing ideas on the Club, meeting new people at TestBashes, and catching up with missed events thanks to the Dojo. Wouldn't be the tester I am without all of this."

Lee Marshall, Coventry, UK

"As Head of Testing, I am responsible for the professional development of my people and have MoT Team Membership to support this. I want to have a good atmosphere and up-to-date information for the exchange. The TestBash conferences and the software testing content on the Dojo are an excellent source for this. Great speakers and the latest content and news from the testing community!"

Sven Schirmer, Munich, DE

"I recently started doing some research on available material on quality coaching that I could reuse in training some of my staff. I found that, and more, on the Ministry of Testing Dojo. First, there was a great talk by Rob Meaney from 2018, still very relevant; and to me, the most definitive and relevant material on Quality Coaching, I have yet found. And quite by accident and also helpful, I found a talk by Katrina Clokie on tester pairing. I was really encouraged to see that Katrina did this experiment four years ago, but it remains entirely relevant and still progressive, at this time. What a wealth of knowledge in the Dojo. Well done Ministry of Testing"

Theresa Neate, Melbourne, AU
